Wipster + Adobe

BURTON

"Using Wipster, our time frames shrink. The platform keeps us moving at a much faster pace than ever before."

Mark Cernosia, Producer.

Wipster + Adobe: Collaborative video workflow at scale

Wipster adds a collaborative layer to your video workflow and shortens the feedback loop between creatives and stakeholders by up to 90%. By providing an integrated and centralized hub, Wipster complements Adobe's video creation and editing tools, resulting in a workflow designed for speed, efficiency, and scale.

Adobe creative users can effortlessly stay up-to-date across multiple projects, teams, and tasks without having to leave their editing suite. Performance analytics are automatically pulled back into Wipster, empowering creative teams with actionable data for a more agile creative process, and a more thorough and transparent workflow.

Wipster is the only video platform to bring together the creative, collaborative, and performance aspects of video making into a one intuitive workflow.
